OHA 280 Presidio of San Francisco Autopsies

Accession Number: NA

Date of Records: 1899 - 1902

Size: 4 boxes, 1.75 linear feet

Finding Aid by: Trenton Streck-Havill (2018)

Access and Use: The Otis Historical Archives is committed to providing open access to its collections as far as possible within the limits of privacy and confidentiality. Access to this collection is at the discretion of the Otis Historical Archives and material contained within the records may be subject to review before access is granted.

Restrictions: This collection is unrestricted.

Condition: This collection may include fragile material that requires special or limited handling.

Historical Note: Collection is from the U.S. Army General Hospital, Presidio of San Francisco. A military base was established in the Presidio in 1847 containing Fort Point. Soldiers from the Presidio were involved in the Indian Wars of 1870s and 1880s, after which time it was used as a major deployment station for troops during the 1898 Spanish-American War. From then through 1905 the military hospital tended to returning wounded from the Spanish-American War and Philippine-American War.

Series/Scope and Content Note: This collection includes those autopsies performed at the U.S. Army General Hospital and concerns mostly returning wounded that died during transport back from the warfront or at the Presidio hospital. Patient files are arranged alphabetically with associated hospital number assigned to case. Often include both medical care summary as well as autopsy documentation.
