

SCIENCE CAFE

AT THE

NATIONAL MUSEUM OF HEALTH AND MEDICINE

Thursday, November 10, 2022, 6 p.m.

Historically Informed Nursing Research for Future Large Scale Combat Operations

Join Col. Young Yauger, executive director of the Tri-Service Nursing Research Program, as he compares how military nursing played a role in previous conflicts, what nursing practices continue today, and what the future of military nursing may look like in subsequent conflicts. Yauger will discuss how research and evidence-based practice projects can help the Defense Health Agency, and specifically the nurse corps, promote military readiness and become better prepared to respond to future crises.

Images:

190418-N-AW702-002: U.S. Navy Photo by Jacob Sippel / BUMED 09-5074 / 1106-G-N1234-020: U.S. Navy Photo by Serena Gerfy / SC 172504

2500 Linden Lane, Silver Spring, MD 20910
(301) 319-3300 www.medicalmuseum.health.mil

   @MedicalMuseum

USArmy.Detrick.MEDCOM-USAMRMC.List.Medical-Museum@health.mil