

If I Betray These Words:* Why Moral Injury in Medicine Matters to Us All

Book Talk by Dr. Wendy Dean

Sunday, May 5, 2 p.m. – In person and live on Facebook @MedicalMuseum

For half a century, health care worker distress has been described as burnout, but what if that is an incomplete diagnosis? Drawing from her book, new research, and frontline wisdom, Dr. Dean makes a case for a new understanding of medicine's challenges, why they matter to all of us, who will be patients one day, and what we can do about them.
